| Teaching & Strategies:                 | Learning  | The learning outcomes will be achieved through the following teaching methodologies: Lectures — Communication of knowledge and ideas from lecturer to student. Problem Solving — Students will participate in individual and group activities to apply knowledge and theory to experiences of the media. Class Discussion — Students will be actively encouraged to participate in debates and discussions E- Learning — VLE (Blackboard) will be used. Practice Based Learning — practice allows students to combine creativity and learning - projects and assessments will incorporate media practice |  |  |  |
| Module Aim:                            |   | In an increasingly fast-paced visual culture, this module aims to develop students' knowledge and application of the visual literacies that underpin modern communication. The module examines existing architectures of meaning making through theoretical frameworks such as semiotics and discourse analysis Students will develop tools to interpret the media artefacts of global communications systems in the new media age.  |  |  |  |
